MEDICAL SPECIALTIES DISTRIBUTORS, LLC (MSD) ACQUIRES INNOVATIVE MEDICAL SYSTEMS, INC. (IMS)

Stoughton, MA April 17, 2009 – Medical Specialties Distributors, LLC (MSD), a leading supplier of healthcare products and biomedical equipment rentals and services, announces the acquisition of Innovative Medical Systems, Inc., an Atlanta area based distributor of infusion products to both the alternate site and acute care markets.

“Combining MSD’s national scale supply channel leadership with large multi-site healthcare providers and Innovative Medical System’s unique product offerings, expertise in infection control and oncology, customer and vendor partnerships, and entrepreneurial spirit will create a stronger MSD positioned for increased higher than industry average growth and increasingly dynamic customer solutions,” said James M. Beck, President and CEO of MSD.

“MSD is excited about the synergies created by this acquisition,” said Beck. “Chris Good, founder and President of Innovative Medical Systems, is a respected leader in the field of infusion therapy and has built a truly innovative company with a strong track record of sales and outstanding customer service. In combining the two companies, customers of both entities will begin to see immediate benefits.”

Chris Good joins MSD as the President of Outpatient Infusion Systems, a wholly owned subsidiary of the company providing ambulatory infusion solutions to acute care and alternate site facilities. “I am eager to combine Innovative Medical’s strengths with MSD’s national distribution capabilities,” said Good. “The end result is going to be a powerful, customer-focused organization dedicated to taking care of customers and their specific needs with a comprehensive portfolio of products and services.”
